The Labor Behind the Day

by Isaac Beaverson

This is a day that we often casually use as an excuse to not work, but there is a deeper meaning to this day. When asked why this day is set aside, Colt replied, "To give the laborers a break." This was the most common answer among students, but there is more intent than simply a break from work. So while enjoying cookouts, running to Canada for sushi, or just spending time with the family, remember the time and effort that many people put into their work to keep our great country together and functioning. And most importantly, thank our Father for giving us the ability to work together. Out of all the reasons given for Labor Day, Ian Cross's reason fits best: "To celebrate the hard workers."

New Bobcats On Campus!

by Will Norton

New students are awesome! This year, we have four New Bobcats - Kristina, Quinn, Skyelan, and Sophia. New faces are always fun. As students of MBS, we try to make the new students fit in and feel included! Three of the New Bobcats are taught by Miss Grace. ...

Glorious Goals

by Dylan Swift

The Bobcat soccer team is off to a hot start. The team has won all five of their games leading to a 5-0 record. Isaac Beaverson said, "I hope that we can continue this win streak all year and win the Northern Lights League Tournament." The Bobcats beat Big Bay de Noc 4-2, Beaver Island twice 2-0 and 6-0, Mackinac Island 4-0, and Grand Marais 8-0. When talking about the team's ball movement, Coach MacArthur said, "Their passing has been on point and they are being in the right place at the right time to score goals and get stops on defense." Good job Bobcats and good luck!

(continued from above) ... Quinn's favorite thing about Miss Grace's class is "She reads books to us." Kristina, another one of our New Bobcats, is a 9th grader who also plays volleyball. Kristina says her favorite thing about volleyball is "The fact that it's not as hard as hockey." Let's give a warm welcome to our New Bobcats!!

Back-to-School Blues and How to Get Rid of Them

by Gabe Heyrman

After a long summer the time has finally come to start school again and many people are quite anxious. The first day of school is rough for almost everyone according to a new student Kristina, "For me it felt fast but had the effects of a long day." Some people may still be trying to figure out what to do. Some advice for those people from Dylan Swift is "It's going to be nice to get back into a rhythm." Let's all push ourselves to be better for the coming year.

A Young Team's Improvement

by Marshall Norton

The volleyball team's rough start has led to the team learning some life lessons. Alissa MacArthur said, "I have seen great improvement from last year in their form and their understanding of the game. I think the beginning of the season has been a great start for how young they are." The team's youngness has led to some years of rebuilding seasons, but every year the girls are getting better and better each game. In the next few years, the team will grow to know exactly what they need to do and where they need to be on the court. Skylar Mickelson said, "I think as the season continues that everyone will progress and get better with timing and communication. We just need to remember that it isn't about winning. But more about communicating and being kind to each other even when a mistake is made. Don't be too harsh on yourself or others. We all make mistakes and are growing and learning." Congrats on your first win, LadyCats!

ME: Dad, I'm gonna take a shower.

DAD: Well, you'd better put it back!

Congrats on your first win, LadyCats!
